Teacher Superlatives: "The Trebbies"

By Tyrone Tuggles

LIBERTY, Olentangy-- As the first semester at OLHS reached dusk and students began to grow hungry for no school and new AirPods, a long standing Liberty tradition started: Senior Superlatives. For the underclassmen who may not understand this strange use of alliteration, Senior Superlatives are the Yearbook's attempt to represent the seniors' many unique traits. However, we've decided to give this tradition a quirky twist. We introduce the nominees for the 2019 Teacher Superlatives, or, as we refer to it, the Trebbies.

School Leaders to Shut Down Liberty Over Budget Dispute

By Jefferson Steelflex

LIBERTY, Olentangy-- After a heated meeting between administration, teachers, and other members of the OLHS staff, we report that the school will officially undergo a shutdown starting next week. The main cause for the meeting and the resulting shutdown was a budget disagreement. The administration has advocated for the purchasing of more chromebook carts, but the exact number has been subject to much debate, prompting the shutdown. This choice was made after extensive polling that revealed students' desires to burn all regular chromebooks in favor of the fancy touch screen ones.

While the school remains shut down, various branches of the school will work to find a solution to this quarrel. In order to keep you up to date with how the budget will be resolved, we will provide you with suggested alternatives from the meeting down below.

English Department: Has suggested the budget goes into purchasing herbal incense and copies of To Kill A Mockingbird.

Math Department: Preferred that money will be put towards premium Khan Academy subscriptions.

Food for Fitness Teachers: Continuously pushed to use the funds to build a wall to keep the seniors from leaving their classes.

The Woodshop Teachers: We found with the message "MORE WOOD" crudely taped on the door. We can only assume what they would want.

The Art Department: Put in numerous requests for new speakers to listen to obscure 90s indie folk music.

While there were many other ideas, none of which being pro-chromebooks, the most controversial idea was that of the science teachers. This group has made a plan to build a underground wing of the school that they can call their own. No longer would they have to be the refugees in the Language and Business hallways. It has been reported that the administration agreed to providing new thin plastic rulers instead.

JANUARY 6th LIBERTY NEWS BULLETIN

By Frederick Durst

LIBERTY, Olentangy-- In spite of the many Trebuchet contributors that we have tragically lost while attempting to navigate the school's website, we still regularly visit the page looking for important news to share. This bulletin was written by the administration on the day before Winter break ended; we hope you find this helpful.

Dear Liberty,
The administrative staff is pleased to be welcoming you all back for yet another semester at Liberty, and we hope that you all had a relaxing break. It is important that all students, parents, and governments have this much needed time off, however we want to take the time to remind you all that on Monday, we expect all students to be fully prepared and ready to participate. We have posted a list of helpful reminders below.

- Please remember to come prepared with all materials, and be checking schoology and powerschool for assignments and updates, as well as information on your new classes.
- Powerschool is down, and will remain that way indefinitely.
- Your second semester classes will begin tomorrow, and it is your responsibility to know where they are before we rotate.
- The bell system is down. We will not be rotating classes.
- We are in the midst of flu season, and all students are encouraged to receive a flu shot and be washing their hands regularly.
- Our soap is gone and our sinks are not working.
- Make sure to visit your guidance counselors with any scheduling inquiries.
- The guidance counselors are at lunch right now, sorry.

As we begin heating up the leftovers from before break in the microwave for lunch tomorrow, all of us are excited to see you all again and continue our learning mission.

Starner Releases School-Wide New Year's Resolutions

By Lilliam Pumpernickel

LIBERTY, Olentangy-- Supreme Leader Starner has reached out to "various" news outlets in the school asking them to share their goals for the 2019 year. Strangely enough, nobody reached out to us. However, as dutiful reporters, we have come up with our best guesses as to what the school's goals would be.

- Fix the clocks
- Only screw up a few hundred students' 2nd semester schedules
- Break more of the sinks
- Go to the gym more
- Build another parking lot
- More wall spots for Patriot Period Signs
- Redistribute the wealth to the common people, and abolish private property
- More Final 4 exits
- Build a Moat

Please help Liberty follow these resolutions, or Deputy Peterson will throw you into the moat.

Ask Trebuchet…

Dear Trebuchet,
I don't want to take P.E. at the school, but I'm not sure if I'm good enough to make any of the sports teams. What do you think I should do?
- Anonymous

Dear Anonymous,
There are many opportunities here at OLHS to earn a P.E. credit without taking P.E. class. Here are few sports teams that we would recommend you try out for.
- Curling
- Underwater basket weaving
- Thumb Wrestling
- Nintendo Club
- The Square Dancing Team
- Chess Club
- Competitive Eating
- Fight Club (Shhhhhh)

If none of these are suitable for you just do what everyone else does and run Track. Best of luck!
